We had a very enjoyable progressive feuchre party on Saturday evening, given by twelve of the guests, and chaperoned by Mrs. Carter, of Richmond, and Mrs. Peter Ainslie, of Lynchburg. The prizes were very handsome, and the friendly rivalry caused much amusement. The first ladies' prize was won by pretty Miss Janie Clark, of Lynchburg, who, by the way, is the reigning belle, and the ladies' booby by Mrs. H. C. Boudar, of Richmond. The first gentleman's prize was won by Mr. J. C. Wingo, of Richmond, and the booby by Mrs. H. C. Republican Senators confess that no measure has ever so muddled their party as this Force bill. They are divided into several factions. There is the Quay faction, which contends for shelving the Force bill. There is the faction which demands the passage of the bill, and will not consent to anything short of that. Then there is a faction which contends for laying aside the whole question and the adoption of a gaz-rule. Then there is still another aside the whole question and the adoption of a gag-rule. Then there is still another faction made up of Teller, Paddock, and several others, which oppose the Force bill,
